Must Reading

Please take time to read, study and enjoy the 12-page tabloid in this week's issue entitled "Citizens Report to the City of South Fulton."

It was suggested by, prepared by and documented by South Fulton's City Manager Mike Blake. It is a superb mailing piece for seeking out industry, which Mike tells me is constant in South Fulton with nearly 50 letters going out each day to industries large and small.

Mike is going to send the tabloid to hundreds of influential people and is even going to send copies to those industrialists who have evinced no interest in this area. The handsome brochure is sure to have them take another look at the Tennessee city.

At the News we are extremely proud to have done the design, layout, and make-up on the tabloid.

There are some things in this world that simply bug me out of my mind. Crawling in my system today are two things: All of the ruckus and harangue about Sunday closing and daylight saving time.

Both issues are monuments to hypocrisy.

Sunday Closing!

Take Sunday closing for instance. A prime example of Kentucky's out-dated, outmoded Constitution, the law makes it a violation to engage in commercial pursuits on the Sabbath. Designed for the by-gone days when women's work was in the home and transportation was such that a trip to the store was an all-day pursuit and menfolks worked long hours, then Sunday was a day of rest and all work ceased.

As I see it, the law gave that bread-winner the privilege to take that day of rest; certainly it was not to legislate his faith and make church-going obligatory.

Things are different today, as if I need to remind you. Lack of time to do the things we need to do anytime in the week is of the essence.

If we need the hours on Sunday to get them done that's our affair. And if the breast-beaters want to contend that opening stores on Sunday is sinful, then it's sinful to buy gasoline, or automobile tires, or cosmetics, or hose, or sun-glasses, or perfume, any of which can be purchased at the stores permitted to stay open.

Going to church on Sunday, or anytime, is a matter between an individual and his conscience, and no matter of law can force him to go in any manner but voluntary.

It's much to do about nothing, really.

Daylight Saving

Here is another instance where Kentucky sometimes has every right to be called a backward State. With 47 other States going on Federal Daylight Saving Time, it would appear that all the rest of them are out of step but the Bluegrass State, walking backwards, while all others walk forward.

Silliest argument I have ever heard against daylight time is the poor excuse that school children have to get up in the dark and wait for the school bus in the dark.

So what? I'll bet if that poor "mistreated" youngster had to stand in the dark, and the rain, and the sleet, and the snow to do something he really wanted to do, even the worst inconvenience wouldn't bother him a bit. Now would it?

Me and My Radio

A funny thing happened to me on my way back from the Christmas tree. I walked away with a handsome little radio that I had suggested to Santa Claus as one of my most wanted gifts.

I didn't have one in my bedroom and I wanted to listen to the live-wire every morning. The radio-gift was from Paul and he wanted to make it a real nice one, although I wanted just a little simple instrument that I could turn on and shut off as I pleased.

I got the radio all right, but it has more gadgets on it than you can imagine. It has a clock, AM-FM listening, an alarm, and some miserable little busy-body attachment called a snoozer.

The first morning after I received it, the radio went on all by itself and there I was tuned to WFUL's Live Wire. I raised up out of bed to see what time it was, but alas that was a wasted effort. The clock's hands are silver and

"The Birds," May Be Cause Of Costly Loss To Farm Livestock

by R. P. Westpheling
(See Editorial Page)

DEATH AND DESOLATION: Robert Lusk grimly surveys a typical morning crop of dead pigs he gathers daily with a wheelbarrow from the pens of some 50 sows now in his pig-parlor at Cayce. His whole blue-ribbon herd is infected with dread "TGE" and he is fearful of a near-100% loss despite round-the-clock efforts of every animal specialist he can get to help him with his crisis. TGE herd infection is blamed on the hordes of starlings that hang around his feed lots. (Other Photos On Page 6)

Last year Robert Lusk invested around $50,000 in an ultra-modern "pig-parlor" on his farm near Cayce and got into the business of raising hogs in a big way.

The new parlor (see picture) provides every modern convenience and safety device that one can install in order to insure that a full litter of pigs will survive their first precarious few weeks after birth and grow to full marketable maturity. The parlor has heated floors, heat lamps, automatic waterers and feeders and ultra-modern sanitary facilities.

Then Robert imported the finest herd stock to be purchased, all full-tested, disease-free and top quality, and it looked like he had a fine business going.

Today, the Lusk pig parlor is a scene of death, dying and desolation. Big litters arrive every day, beautiful little pigs that are everything a hog-raiser could hope for, and in a week to ten days they show signs of disease, and then they grow weak, emaciated and begin to die. In two weeks time the entire litter is gone. Lusk figures his present pig crop to be a 100% loss, and that he will have lost thousands before the winter is over.

Why? Lusk and area veterinarians have pinpointed the disease cause to the millions of starlings that come to Fulton's "roost" every night and hang around his extensive feed lots during the days. Through the bird droppings in and around his feeders, the sows have contracted a dread disease known as "TGE" (transmissible gastro-enteritis) which, while it won't kill the big healthy sows, is transmitted through their milk to their pigs after birth, resulting in 100% fatality of the little pigs within two weeks.

"TGE is a highly-contagious virus disease," a veterinarian on the scene told the News last Friday, "and its exact mode of transmission is not known, but in every instance of its outbreak there has existed a tremendous starling problem in the immediate area." Next to the vicious cholera, TGE is the most dreaded disease in the pig and hog business, he stated.

Aided by his veterinarian help (which are on the scene almost constantly), Lusk has resorted to every known serum and medical aid that is known to the industry in an effort to stem the tide of TGE and to attempt to prevent its continuation in sows that have not yet farrowed, but to no avail. "There just isn't any serum on the market for this disease," Lusk pointed out. "Trying to keep the starlings away from this tremendous feeding area is like trying to keep the snow from coming down; it's impossible. The only solution to me is to rout the birds from their nightly roost area so they will leave this area entirely."

TGE hit the Lusk pens about 10 days ago, and Lusk estimates that he has already lost over $7,000 and stands to lose a lot more before it's over. "There is no telling what my over-all loss will be," he said.

Lusk pointed out, in answer to the question that he did not have this disease problem last year because he just built his giant $50,000 layout last year and was not in business then.

A veterinarian present stated that Hickman County was "full" of TGE, and reports from other points in this area indicated that the dread disease has been transmitted all over it—wherever the starlings roam in their daily search for food. "We could stand here and shoot 'em all day long," Lusk stated, "but that would be just a drop in the bucket. There are literally millions all over this area, and even a hundred gunners couldn't get them all."

Research Commission, District Bar Association Report Conflicting Facts On Need For Judgeship

An Editorial News Analysis
by Jo Westpheling

In an issue this week, the Paducah Sun-Democrat reported that the Fulton County News was opposed to a new judicial district for West Kentucky, along with former State Representative Henry Maddox.

For the record The Fulton News has NOT OPPOSED a new judicial district for West Kentucky. Opposition to issues is usually contained on our editorial page or in some personal column written respectively, by the editor or publisher.

Such opposition has not been voiced in our current issues, nor do we think that it was voiced when the matter of a new district was promulgated during the 1966 session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

What this newspaper has pointed out, in its news columns, are the glaring discrepancies brought out by advocates of the measure in their attempt to establish a new judicial district.

As an example, we point to a letter from our good friend Attorney Will Shadoan of Wickliffe, president of the First Judicial District Bar Association.

In a story appearing on the front page of the Carlisle County News, published by State Representative Ralph Graves, who has introduced the bill to establish a new judgeship Shadoan said: "The truth is that the case load of Judge W. C. Tipton IS THE HEAVIEST IN THE STATE."

In discussing his statement with Mr. Shadoan he indicated that the sentence should have read: "One of the heaviest caseloads in the State."

The statement made by Mr. Shadoan is not compatible with the real facts documented by the Legislative Research Commission.

The reference to Judge Tipton's caseload is corrected in an advertisement appearing on Page 6 of this issue.

At the outset let us make it abundantly clear that the publishers of this newspaper hold Mr. Shadoan in the highest regard. He is an eminent and distinguished member of the Kentucky Bar Association.

Under no circumstances do we think that Mr. Shadoan is trying to mislead or to misrepresent any facts regarding the necessity for a new judgeship in these far Western Kentucky counties.

His wishes for a new judgeship stem from his dedication to his clients who need and are entitled to a speedy trial. We agree with him also that it does appear rather strange that McCracken County, even with two judges, tried only 61 cases in 1968 while our own Judge Tipton alone tried 317.

We admire Mr. Shadoan and most of his colleagues for seeking the new court just as we abhor the high-handed chicanery of one other colleague for intimidating this newspaper editor for publishing the facts in the case.

We're not going to get into an argument of semantics, but we feel that we ought to advise you of the fact that Judge Tipton had a "LESS than the average" caseload per judge in 1968, the latest figures compiled by the Legislative Research Commission in its bulletin No. 71 dealing with "Circuit Court Caseloads."

Here are the figures:

Average Caseload Per Judge 1968
Civil Cases Filed	575
Criminal Cases Filed	144
Total Civil and Criminal	719
Judge Tipton's Caseload 1968
Civil Cases Filed	532
Criminal Cases Filed	144
Total Civil and Criminal	676

Of the 49 judicial districts in Kentucky, 13 of the one-judge districts have greater caseloads than does Judge Tipton. Twenty-six districts have less caseloads than Judge Tipton. In only two of the 26 districts does a single judge have less than 300 cases. They are district Number 18 (Pendleton, Harrison, Robertson and Nicholas counties) with a total of 282 cases in 1968 and District Number 49 (Simpson and Allen counties) with a total caseload of 294 in 1968.

Fulton Meet Disposes Of Routine Agenda

A short agenda of only seven routine matters consumed an hour and fifteen minutes of the regular meeting of the Fulton City Commission Monday night. Reminiscent of the City Council, pre-City Manager days, Mayor Nelson Tripp, Commissioners Charles Gregory, Charles Robert Bennett, Bobby Craven and J. D. Hales and City Attorney James Warren disposed of routine matters as to: ---Whether a refund should be made on a water meter. The request for a refund was declined. ---Whether an occupational license should be issued for a full year of for four months to an individual preparing income tax returns for that period of time. A full year's license was ordered. ---Authorized the preparation of an ordinance to limit the amount of time a train can block a down-town crossing. The Kentucky limit of 15 minutes was tentatively agreed upon.

---Appointed Gene Hatfield to a vacancy on the Urban Renewal Board.

---Complaint about dogs running loose was reported and no action taken. Announcement was made that a meeting has been set up with County Judge James Menees to try to solve the problem county-wide.

---Endorsed the Community Uplift Committee in plans to work with the TVA Beautification Committee. This committee, appointed by the Cham-

Patricia Sue Hood Is Homemaker

Patricia Sue Hood has been named Fulton High School's 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Selected on the basis of her score in a December 2 homemaking knowledge and attitudes examination for which a record 646,041 senior girls in 15,040 of the nation's high schools were enrolled, she is now eligible for state and national honors.

Paducah Lady Is Named To Census Post

Appointment of Mrs. Anita Brown of Paducah, Kentucky as District Manager of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in this area was announced today by Director Robert A. Yerkey of the Census Bureau's Regional office in Detroit.

From the District Office located at 1501 Broadway St. in Paducah, Mrs. Brown will supervise all phases of the census in the following counties: Ballard, Butler, Caldwell, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Crittenden, Fulton, Graves, Henderson, Hickman, Hopkins, Livingston, Logan, Lyon, Marshall, McCracken, McLean, Muhlenburg, Todd, Trigg, Union, and Webster.

On January 26, following several days of intensive training in the Regional Office, Mrs. Brown will come on duty and begin setting up the District Office. She will direct a force of 28 crew leaders and 401 census takers throughout the area.

Taking the 1970 census nationally will require the services of 12,000 crew leaders, 160,000 census takers, and 393 district managers, in addition to 13,000 office personnel.

Emergency Action To Rid Area Of Bird Pestilence Needed Before Humans Die

In this issue of the News there is an appalling story regarding the wanton loss of valuable livestock to area farmer Robert "Gene" Lusk. While there is no direct evidence that the dread disease (TGE) suffered by Mr. Lusk's hogs is traceable to the infestation of the millions of starlings that come here each evening, there is enough connection between the two to warrant some immediate and urgent action to rid this community of this insidious health hazard.

Our neighboring Dexter (Mo.) told us two years ago that the "birds" carry even more tragic diseases: a disease called "histoplasmosis", attributed directly to the birds, caused several fatalities among young children in that community, and an aroused community finally eradicated the pests. By that time it was too late to help those children who succumbed. Knowing this, is there any sense in sitting around and waiting for the same thing to happen here... in YOUR neighborhood or in YOUR home?

In its report, the National Commission on Community Health Services strongly emphasizes the responsibility that "Health Is A Community Affair," the title of the report.

The report is both provocative and valuable. It provides an appraisal of the health services which communities need to develop in the years ahead, and, in addition make recommendations and take action where necessary to safeguard the health of its population and its environs.

The report specifically points out that "community" does not necessarily mean a governmental entity. Community, in the language of the report means disregarding boundary lines of city, county and states. A "community" then, for the reasons of health matters, means where the problem is defined, dealt with and subsequently resolved.

The City of Fulton has passed the problem on to the county health sanitarian; he has passed it on to the State health authorities; the State has passed it on to regional authorities and the regional authorities have passed it on to the Federal authorities, who undoubtedly have passed it back to the local "community" as its responsibility.

The City of Fulton, (since most of the birds come to roost within its boundaries) has filed a simply ridiculous suit against the Carr Estate, because that's where you can find most of the birds, if you're looking for them of an afternoon.

Likewise the City of Fulton has acquired a voluminous file of correspondence, with all kinds of authorities, seeking to rid the community of the birds, but apparently to no avail.

When Congressmen Frank Albert Stubblefield and Ed Jones were here two weeks ago, a few of the men at the gathering took the legislators out to see the bird population. Darkness prevented them from getting a good view of the hordes of unwelcome guests. Both promised to look into the matter when they got back to Washington.

It is our thinking that not another 24 hours should pass without an emergency meeting of local and county officials called to do something about this pestilence.

The birds have not always been here.

It is obvious that some vegetation or unusual condition conducive to their habitation attracts them here.

Our Nation has discovered cure and prevention for tuberculosis, polio, heart disease and other fatal diseases. It has sent a man to the moon.

Surely there must be some method to rid this area of an ever increasing number of disease carrying starlings.

Shall we wait until this disease kills humans before we act in emergency sessions?

County as a judicial district all its own.

And let's assume that the 1968 caseload is halved by the action this would give Judge Tipton an annual caseload, based on 1968 figures, of 338 cases in a year. Even with the normal rate of increase of civil cases his caseload would perhaps be the THIRD SMALLEST IN THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

This, in the face of economic data that this far western part of Kentucky is not on the verge of an industrial boom; that criminal cases filed in the five-county district are among the lowest in Kentucky, a 25 per cent decrease since 1960; and that there was only a 20 per cent increase in civil cases filed in the eight-year period.

There are some amazing, if not amusing oddities connected with the legislation and proposal for the new judicial district and for the subsequent new judgeship. Here are some of them:

—Rep. Lloyd Clapp of Wingo, representing Graves County, is apparently opposed to the new district and yet it is Graves County that would benefit most from the creation of a new $19,900 judgeship, something of a legal plum for some Graves County lawyer. Also, while advocates of the measure say otherwise, the News has been informed by unimpeachable sources that some of the leading lawyers in Graves County are opposed to the new district, being perfectly happy with the efficiency and dedication by which Judge Tipton discharges his duties.

—While Hickman County Attorney Jack Roberts and Fulton attorney James Warren have been the leading proponents of the new district, both categorically deny that they are even remotely interested in the appointment as Commonwealth attorney, which would naturally follow if the district is created for Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties.

—Representative Graves took strong issue with former Representative Henry Maddox, and other opponents of the new district, because of the additional revenue involved. Graves said in his letter that it would not cost the taxpayers in the new district any money at all. The State will pay the bill. That doesn't figure. Tax money paid at the local level or tax money paid at the state level is TAX MONEY, any way you look at it.

—Additionally Graves made some right uncomplimentary remarks about Governor Louie Nunn in his letter. Surely Ralph has been around the General Assembly enough to know that a "sitting" governor can do some serious arm-twisting where legislation is concerned, regardless of what party controls the legislature. We can't see how the First Legislative District can profit much if our representative is in open warfare with the man who controls the purse strings and the patronage.

Well, to sum it up, we said at the beginning of this article that we had not opposed the creation of a new judicial district for West Kentucky.

And we still don't. However we will say that if there are only three or four to be created, and necessary though another judge may be in West Kentucky, we do not think that the facts are strong enough in this area to warrant another district, in the face of the much heavier caseloads in other districts.

And if you don't think that's fact instead of fiction let these figures talk for you:

In 1968 the population of the First Judicial District was 60,300 persons. A total of 676 cases, both civil and criminal were filed in the five-county First Judicial District.

That means that 59,624 citizens and taxpayers did not suffer from this great "inconvenience" of having only one judge in the First Judicial District.

Oh, you could give or take a few hundred interested people one way or another, but certainly not enough to cause a population crisis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Burnette, Fulton, announce the birth of a nine pound baby girl born, January 24 at the Fulton Hospital.

Charles E. Wright, Chairman, Fulton County PMA said today that the County Office was now in the process of setting up 1950 corn acreage allotments. Acreages for the past three years have been obtained on most every farm in the county.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Fulton-Hickman Counties Medical Society will sponsor a benefit bingo party Thursday, February 9th at the Woman's Club in Fulton. The party will begin at 7:30 p. m.

True to the best tradition in the newspaper business, little Mary Jo Westpheling, infant daughter of the News publishers, arrived yesterday, January 26, on press day, so that the birth announcement could be made before the paper went to press. Weighing in at a husky 8 pounds and 14 ounces, little Mary Jo was doing fine as her father returned to Fulton to help get the paper out.

The Bowers Community Club will meet Friday, February 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Pickle, 403 Smith Street, for the installation of new officers. The new officers to be installed include: Raymond Adams, president; Mrs. Lee Reeves, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Adams, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Rob Holman, reporter.

Mrs. Leon Browder was gracious hostess to the Tuesday luncheon club. A delightful luncheon was served at the Derby. Following the luncheon the members went to the home of Mrs. Browder where games of bridge were enjoyed. Mrs. Elizabeth Snow was awarded high score prize at the close of the games.

Mrs. Charles Thomas was gracious hostess to dessert bridge, Monday night, complimenting Miss Lois Jean Hindman, bride-elect of Rodney Arthur Miller of Gaithersburg, Md. The guest list included: Miss Hindman, Mrs.

M. W. Haws, Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mrs. William Vowell, Mrs. Jack Carter, Mrs. Thomas Mahan, Mrs. Morgan Omar and Mrs. Felix Gossum, Jr.

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

The Fulton Girl Scout Fund Drive was a success due to your untiring efforts and I would like to express my appreciation on behalf of the girls and the Board of the Bear Creek Girl Scout Council.

I am asking Bill Robertson to present you with a small token of our appreciation. Bill is a valued member of the Board.

Thank you for the check for $741.77 and for contacting Mr. Martin concerning Oblon Co. United Fund Drive. Please thank all those who contributed to the Drive, especially all the workers who helped. Wish we could thank each and every one of them personally.

Next year, I believe some of the contributors will become Sustaining Members. Could we have a list of all who contributed for our files?

Thank you again for your interest in our girls; and we hope we can continue to have your support.

Cordially yours,

Mrs. Arthur Komorowski
President

Dear Jo:

Your card at Xmas was so attractive and you have a handsome tribe also.

Thanks for your copy to the Bear Creek gals and my thanks also and deeply for your fine and productive efforts in the drive. You are always on hand and ready to put all in a worthy effort.

The very best from our tribe to you and your tribe for a fine 1970 and many to follow.

Thanks again,

Dear Paul and Jo:

I have been reading with considerable interest the report you published of the financial condition of the city, among other interesting items.

I also noticed that the Sesquicentennial edition is out. Inasmuch as I do not know how many will be available, I am enclosing a check for $4 to cover the cost of two bound copies, which you will please put aside for me, so I can pick them up when I come to Fulton this spring.

I have some property involvement and improvement to undertake in Fulton this year, so will be there several times. I do hope that Fulton city can go forward this year in management, and in obtaining industry and businesses that will provide employment for more people. Keep up the good work, and I'll be seeing you before too long. Thanks for your attention to two bound volumes as stated above.

With sincere regards to you both,

Very truly yours,

Judgeship ---

Of the other remaining 24 districts, with caseloads LESS than those of Judge Tipton in 1968, and having only one circuit judge, the figures compare equally with the caseload of Judge Tipton.

Here are some examples: District No. 11 (Washington, Marion, Taylor, Green) 674 cases; District No. 14 (Scott, Woodford) 589 cases; District No. 34 (McCreary, Whitley) 628.

Some examples of the districts having MORE caseloads than Judge Tipton, served by only one judge are: District No. 5 (Union, Henderson, Webster) with a caseload of 1,117; District No. 25 (Madison, Jessamine, Clark) 1009; District No. 3 (Lyon, Trigg, Christian) 775; and District No. 4 (Crittenden, Caldwell, Hopkins) 740.

There are only nine multi-judge circuit court districts in Kentucky, representing some of the most heavily populated and industrially oriented areas of the State.

Of the nine, the COMBINED case load of each judge in three of the counties compares favorably with that of Judge Tipton. In the three counties the cases, if divided equally between the two judges would approximate the case load of Judge Tipton.

They are: McCracken County, total 1159, 579 for each judge; Campbell County, total 1288, 644 for each judge; Boyd County, total 1214, 606 cases for each judge.

According to the figures released by the Legislative Research Commission the caseload is not divided equally between the two judges, in the multi-judge judicial districts.

The News makes these observations only as a hypothesis.

Last week representatives of the First Judicial Bar Association went to Frankfort to present the case for the new judicial district to Governor Louie Nunn. It is our understanding that the Governor did not commit himself in any manner to the delegation.

There is strong evidence that if any new judgeships are created they will be in the most hard-pressed areas, particularly in Jefferson County. And justifiably so.

Let's do a little assuming here. Let's suppose that Representative Graves is successful in passing his legislation for a new judicial district to comprise Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties, leaving Graves

SOCIETY - WOMAN'S INTEREST

Letter From Washington

By Mrs. John Sherman Cooper

There are two very strong trends today. One clearly visible is inferior mass production, questionable quality and design in housing, bad taste in advertising, and catering to tacky snob appeal. The other trend, the complete reverse, is the actual thirst on the part of the people in this country for excellence and quality. Here is an example.

Last year, the English BBC-TV ran a 13-part series entitled "Civilization." This series was created by Lord Clark, a distinguished and witty British scholar. "Civilization," which Lord Clark calls an "intellectual soap opera," had a fantastic success in England but was turned down by all of the major networks in this country because they thought it would not make money. They were wrong.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art and the New York University in New York, recognized immediately the public interest in this series, as did the National Gallery of Art in Washington, where they have had the biggest audiences in their history of people who queue up for hours ahead of time to be able to see this magnificent program narrated by Lord Clark. He traveled for two years with producers and a crew of photographers, photographing the art and architecture of Europe from the Dark Ages to the Impressionist period. Even though you may have seen many of the subjects shown, you still get a new and exciting perspective. Because of the lighting, frescoes like those in the Vatican are clearer than when you were craning your neck at the ceiling.

Another example of success in a different field is the interest in the newly-formed American Film Institute Program which opened at the National Gallery of Art in Washington this week. It presents a choice of outstanding films from all countries and periods. We went the opening night and I have seldom seen such a stream of celebrities, including a red double-decker bus filled with stars gathered to see the 1925 silent film, "The Merry Widow."

Boa Lillie was there, as was Shirley McLaine in a long leopard chiffon print; actor Gregory Peck and his pretty wife, Ethel Kennedy, Sander Vanocur, and Alice Roosevelt Longworth were among the people in a very diversified audience.

The American Film Institute will show over 50 great films in six eight-day programs from January to June, and the $5,000 subscription was sold out weeks before the opening.

The goal of the American Film Institute is to preserve and stimulate the excellence of films in this country. It was established in the summer of 1967 as a non-profit, non-government organization and has already attracted a nationwide membership of film teachers and provides opportunities to young film makers for a two-year training program in its Center for Advanced Studies in California. Again, the overwhelming interest of its Washington opening was unexpected early-to-bed government work.

It is obvious that when people are given an opportunity to see something of quality, the response is overwhelming. But it is also true that unless the people ask for the best, mediocrity will win.

COFFEE CUP CHATTER

The green discoloration that sometimes appears between the white and the yolk of hard-cooked eggs is harmless but certainly not appealing to your appetite. To help prevent discoloration, hard cook the eggs at low-temperature (not boiling), avoid over-cooking, and cool them promptly. Patricia Everett, Courthouse, Benton, Ky. 42025 Telephone 527-6601.

The care of meat in the home is important. Fresh meat should be unwrapped as soon as it comes from the market. Store FRESH meat uncovered or loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. CURED meat should also be stored in the refrigerator. COOKED meat should be stored closely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Canned hams should be kept under refrigeration. FROZEN meat should be stored at a temperature of 0 degrees F. or lower. It may be placed in the refrigerator under ordinary refrigeration if it is to be used immediately after defrosting. Barletta Wraether, Murray, Ky. 42071 Telephone 753-1452.

Good fit is important if your dress is to be attractive and comfortable to wear. A suitable pattern, in your nearest size and carefully altered to your exact measurements and proportions, is the first step in that direction. Do you have trouble constructing clothing to fit? If so, you might find the University of Kentucky Extension leaflet, "Your Pattern, Alter to Fit", helpful. A copy of this leaflet may be obtained by writing or calling me. Catherine C. Thompson, Hick-

Should snow be removed from evergreens? It is a perennial question. If the snow is so wet and heavy you are afraid it will break limbs, remove it by gently shaking the limbs or by using a pole or broom. A small amount of snow helps maintain a steadier temperature in the plants it covers, yet it usually lets adequate light through to the leaves. Maxine Griffin, Clinton, Ky. 42031.

ONE SET OF INSTRUCTIONS IS ENOUGH—George Perkins, commissioner of the Department of Child Welfare, knows when he tells his executive secretary, Mrs. Jo Stratton, to take care of something, he will never have to repeat himself. She is a "pro."

POET'S CORNER

GOD, GIVE US MEN!

God, give us Men! A time like this demands Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;

Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking!

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking;
For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,

Their large professions and their little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land and waiting Justice sleeps.

The McDades To Observe Anniversary

A former Fulton couple, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. "Gip" McDade will observe their sixtieth wedding anniversary Tuesday, February 10, at their home in Grand Prairie, Texas.

They were married in Fulton in 1910. Mrs. McDade was the former Cele Bruce. They have one son, James McDade, who is a post office employee at Grand Prairie, and two granddaughters, Miss Jean McDade and Mrs. Donald Boler; two great-grandchildren, Jeffrey and Karen Boler, all of Grand Prairie. Mr. McDade is a former Fulton police chief and was with the local department for 25 years before his retirement. They moved to Texas, following his retirement.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

The News takes pleasure in wishing these friends Happy Birthday.

January 30: Clyde M. Fields and J. B. Lee; January 31: Earl Mitchell, Prella Clayton Cloyes, Nancy Bushart and Charles Fields; February 1: Yandell Kimberlin, Martha Roberts, Peggy Jane Sturgis and Franklin Pruitt; February 2: Phil Puckett and Sammie Vaughn; February 3: Chuck Beard III and Terry McDaniel; February 4: E. W. Hart, William Henry Vaughn, Elizabeth Jobe and Jimmy Yates; February 5: Jamie Futrell; February 6: Gary Jetton and Linda Whitnel.

SORRY
Sorry, folks, the interesting story of the Pierce community written by Jack Lowe, was crowded out of the paper this week, but it will be in next week's issue.

LITTLE SABRINA Celebrates Birthday

Little Miss Sabrina Cummings of Lexington, Kentucky celebrated her second birthday recently at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Mignone Morrison. Only the immediate family attended: her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cummings of Lexington, Ky., grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Cummings, and great-grand dad, T. D. Cummings, and great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Chess Morrison.

QUEENLY
Nancy Bagwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ross, was crowned South Fulton basketball queen Tuesday, January 27 at 8:00 p.m., during the half time of the South Fulton-Wingo games. Candidates were chosen by the basketball squad and the queen and attendants were elected by the student body.

HURRY HOME
Mrs. Don Heine of Sturgis had surgery Monday, January 26, at the Weiborn Memorial Hospital, Fourth Street, Evansville. She is the former Glenda Sue Brown, daughter of Mrs. Ozelle Brown of Fulton.

Dear Ann Landers.

Dear Ann Landers: All those "Ice Cube" letters were too much for me. If men admire virgins so ardently, why don't they leave a few around? Since your mail reflects a strong preference for intact brides, pray tell where are these untold maidens going to come from? It appears that a great many high-minded fellows who worship at the shrine of chastity will be obliged to settle for someone else's discard.

Men who try every trick in the book to break down a girl's resistance, then call her a tramp, make me sick. One of my closest friends nearly jumped off the Golden Gate bridge because she had given herself to a man who spoke convincingly of marriage. After he finally had his way, he wrote her a letter saying, "I could never marry you now. I am completely disenchanted."

In a recent column you said, "No man has the right to demand a pristine bride unless he can bring to the marriage bed the same quality of purity." Please say it again.---Knob Hill

Dear Knob: You said it again and I thank you. And it might surprise you to know, my dear,

Art Guild Enjoys Program By Mrs. Powell On Picture Frames

The Fulton-South Fulton Art Guild met in regular session Monday night, January 26th in the Woman's Club building. One new member, Mr. Guy Hanna, Miss Aaltje Vandenburg, University of Tennessee, Martin, was introduced. Mrs. Hendon Wright, president, presided over the meeting and reported on the success of the two programs presented by the Guild. Mrs. Wright stated that the November presentation of paintings from area private collections was successful beyond any expectations. The Monday night program presented by Mrs. James Children's Christmas Art and Music Festival was an inspiring event which provided an outlet for the many talented children in our twin-cities.

The success of this event could not have been possible without the full cooperation of many people; Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, Chairman of the program; Mrs. Joe Bennett; the Jayettes and Jaycees; Santa Claus, the Fulton and South Fulton school systems, and many other organizations and individuals are among those to whom we are grateful. A person also helpful was Paul Durbin, Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Erl Sensing, program

The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, February 16th, 7:30 p.m.

Fulton County Students Enroll At UT, Martin

Winter quarter enrollment of 3,972 at the University of Tennessee at Martin is up 11.2 percent over the same period last year, according to H. C. Allison, dean of admissions and records.

UTM students come from 68 counties in Tennessee, 25 other states and three foreign countries.

Enrolled from Fulton and Hickman are:

JONES IS PRESIDENT
The Board of Directors have named C. D. Jones president of the Fulton County Club for 1970 at their regular meeting held recently. He succeeds Wendal Butts as president.

Other officers elected include: James T. Nanney, vice president; Mrs. Tom Westpheling, secretary; and Mrs. Guy Hale of Hickman, treasurer.

NO FIXED GOAL
There's proof that people who are everlastingly on the go seldom arrive anywhere.

will then be a tie. What is your opinion?---Yonkers

Dear Yonk: Sorry, the vote is four to two. I'm with the opposition. Since spotless carpets are so important in your life, I suggest that you put down newspapers or old rugs or a plastic sheet. Delivery men should not be asked to take off their shoes.

Dear Ann Landers: I divorced my husband fifteen years ago. Our son was then eight. I settled for a modest sum of money because he didn't have much. He agreed to support the boy until he was 21 and put him through college. He kept his word.

Six months ago a relative informed me that my ex-husband is making money hand over fist and lives like a king. (He has remarried and has a young family.) If he should die and not mention my son in his will, can we sue his estate and collect?---Slightly Regretful In Illinois

Dear Slightly: In Illinois a parent need not include a child in his will if he chooses not to. If a parent dies without a will, however, the child is entitled to something, as a natural heir.

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughan

The weather continues to be a conversation topic with the welcomed contrast with a week ago when the temperature was around zero for several days with the roads all dangerous with a sheet of ice. The spring like sunshine at the beginning of this week is indeed welcomed by everyone.

The news in this area has been very scarce so most have been housed in due to extreme cold and icy roads.

Congratulations to the Johnny Hazelwood family who welcomed the arrival of a baby boy last Monday. He was named Johnny Dennis.

Durrell Terrell was honored with a birthday supper recently. These enjoying this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundage, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Willey Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Terrell. This was the beginning of the tenth year that this group have been enjoying similar occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitner and Debbie from Nashville visited Mrs. Eula Rogers and Darrell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundage enjoyed a birthday dinner with his brother, Thurston, and Viola last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyon Brundage and sons, Richard and Robert from Stanford, Kentucky visited Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundage last weekend. Richard recently returned from a year's service in Germany.

Get Well wishes to Mrs. Lillie Ray who is a patient in the Volunteer Hospital in Martin. Glad to report Mrs. Ophelia Potts was able to attend the service at Oak Grove Church of Christ Sunday after being a shut-in since the first of the year. Also that Mrs. Tommie Woodruff was able to be out after being a patient in the Obion County Hospital, Mrs. Lillian Rhodes is reported to be about the same at the Obion County Nursing Home where she has been a patient for the past several months.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Fields

The Rev. Bobby Copeland filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist church the past Sunday at 11:00 a.m. Sunday School was held at 10:00 a.m. On next Sunday afternoon Feb. 1 there will be singing by class and congregation. Singers are invited to attend and take part in the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Ainley are victims of the flu and have been indisposed. We hope they will quickly recover. The warmer weather got here with humidity rising to extent that the farmers got the dark-fired tobacco out of the barn and into the bulk. Classing and stripping will get under way very soon, if no cold wave hits here.

Mr. Robert Rickman was reported on sick list, but is improved at this writing. Mrs. Raymond Cherry was under treatment at Hillview Hospital a few days the past week.

Sp/4 Leslie B. Lassiter arrived back in the states the past weekend from Kaiser Sluiter, Germany. He has recently gotten orders for over seas duty in Vietnam, and this a 30 day furlough. He will spend that time here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter near here and report to Washington on Feb. 22 for his tour of duty overseas. Sp/4 Lassiter is with the Heavy Equipment and Maintenance Co.

Get Well wishes are sent to Mr. Kenny Donoho who is a patient in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis suffering from a lame back. He is in traction at the present time. Each of his friends hope for him a soon recovery.

Bro. Dennis Crutchfield filled his regular appointment at Knob Creek Church of Christ the past Sunday at 11:00 a.m. The attendance was very good.

The Rev. Howard Miller filled his regular appointment at Old Bethel Missionary church the past Sunday where the popular minister serves the church as a full time pastor. The church has grown under his leadership and is located on the Palmersville Road.

Mrs. Lucille Westbrook visited in Dresden a few days last week with friends but she has now returned to her home near here.

Mr. Ray Robinson, local grocer of our village continues to build on new added rooms to his house here. He is doing all his own work which adds to the attractive appearance.

LATHAM

By Mrs. W. C. Morrison

Fat Blackard has been indisposed for several days with a case of flu. Thieves broke into the A & C Market last Thursday night, getting a quantity of meat, eggs, watches and numerous other things.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Tuss Ray of Chicago, but a former resident of Latham, who passed away recently. His remains were brought to Jones' Funeral Home, Saturday and funeral services were held at Unity Church on Sunday with Rev. Gerald Stow officiating with interment in the church cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hazelwood announce the arrival of a new son, born at the Volunteer Hospital last Monday. He has been named Johnny Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Huel Wright of Duketown left for Florida last Thursday for the winter. Funeral services were held at Jackson Funeral Home last Friday for Mr. Silas Bruce, who passed away in Paducah, Bro. Lathimer was the official minister. Burial was in Greenlea Cemetery in Fulton.

Chess Morrison hasn't been so well for the past two weeks. Visitors included: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Orwen Morrison, Doyle Bowlin and Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Cummings.

DUKEDOM NEWS

Mrs. Hillman Westbrook

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wilkerson were both patients at the Hillview Hospital last week, but were able to come home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Powell have sold their farm, but retained the house and small acreage. Mrs. Powell was in the Fulton Hospital last week for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bell visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin DeFreese, who reported that Mr. Bell seemed better than for sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hazelwood announce the arrival of a son at the Volunteer Hospital last Monday.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Silas Bruce who passed away Wednesday morning unexpectedly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Imogene Choise, in Paducah. Burial was in the Greenlea Cemetery. His son, Thomas Bruce is of this community.

Howell Jones is in a Mayfield Hospital having suffered a severe heart attack. He is the son-in-law of Fannie Reed. His son, Edmund Jones, was recently dismissed from the hospital having sufficiently recovered from a heart attack.

Good Springs had a guest speaker at the Sunday night services. Bro. Jack Jenkins, a ministerial student at the Methodist Church, brought a very timely message to a good crowd. Good Springs CPW will meet with Mrs. Calvin DeFreese in an all day meeting, Thursday, Feb. 5. Everyone is invited to bring a dish and come for the day.

Show Of Skills Learned From 4-H Clubs Around The Nation

More than three million pre-teens and teenagers have taken part in the world's biggest youth demonstration right here in the United States. There were no protests, no violence and no arrests. What's more, the demonstrations were approved by county officials and businessmen.

These young participants are the nation's 4-H members who annually demonstrate what they have learned in 4-H. And they learn plenty, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H activities in 95,000 clubs supervised by 500,000 volunteer adult and junior leaders.

Demonstrations were given on how to operate automobiles and tractors safely; bake a loaf of bread or can a jar of peaches; make a dress and model it; catch, identify and display insects; take a picture; give a speech; judge crops and show livestock; ride and show horses or train dogs.

The list could go on and on because there are dozens of categories wherein the 4-Hers "learn-by-doing" with the guidance of competent project leaders. Part of the learning process is to demonstrate to others correct methods and procedures.

Demonstrations are given before local groups, at 4-H meetings, at county and state fairs, and other events to show competence of the individual in his special field.

In recognition of perseverance and progress, scores of business firms have for many years presented annual incentive awards to 4-H members. Awards are usually presented in late summer or in the fall when projects have been completed. They range from county medals to national scholarships.

Among the 4-H backers who this year have supported programs through the National 4-H Service Committee are: The Conrad Hilton Hotel; John Deere; Eastman Kodak Company; Elgin National Industries, Inc.; The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company; Homelite, A Division of Textron Inc.; Elanco Products Company; A Division of Eli Lilly and Company; Livestock Conservation, Inc.; Merck & Co., Inc.; and Edwin T. Meredith Foundation.

Others include The Milwaukee Road; The Sears Roebuck Foundation; The S&H Foundation Inc.; Standard Oil Company (Kentucky); Sunbeam Corporation; Tupperware; The West Bend Company and Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Members are now planning their 1970 programs. Some will continue their present activities with the hope of expanding them. Others will try something new.

The range of programs is wide to accommodate boys and girls as young as 9 and as old as 19 years. Home economics, agriculture, health, safety, electric, mechanics, science, conservation and management are among the principal categories.

Any boy or girl can participate in 4-H, according to the Cooperative Extension Service. Contact should be made with a local 4-H Club leader or the County Extension Office.

A. W. Green, Sr.

A. W. Green, Sr., 91, died, Saturday, January 24, at the Fulton Hospital following a short illness. He was a retired farmer and a life-long resident of Obion County.

Born January 23, 1879 in Obion County, he was the son of the late William and Elizabeth Owen Green. His wife, Annie Stallins Green, preceded him in death in 1963.

Services were held Sunday, January 25, at the Hornbeak Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. James Holt and Rev. James Best officiating. Interment was in the Palestine cemetery. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Zula Pierce, Corvallis, Oregon; Mrs. Christine Pierce, Fulton; Mrs. Mary Ellen Ashby, Fulton; Mrs. Ruth McAllister, Satellite Beach, Fla.; Mrs. Betty Williamson, Fulton; five sons, Roy, James R. and A. W. Green, Jr., all of Fulton; Billy S. Green of Martin and Charles Allen Green of Belleville, Illinois.

A half-brother, Ezra O. Vance of Dyersburg, 26 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren also survive.

Laverne Patton

Miss Laverne (Wotsie) Patton, 51, died at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday, January 21 at the Fulton Hospital following a long illness. A Fulton native, she had been a resident of Chicago, Illinois for 22 years.

Born in Fulton on January 27, 1919, she was the daughter of the late Mose and Susie Patton. She attended Milton School in Fulton, and had been employed by a candy company in Chicago for the past 18 years. Services were held Friday, January 23, at the Antioch Baptist Church with Rev. R. S. Bell officiating. Interment by Rutledge Funeral Home of Murray was in Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors include four brothers, Mose, J. B., Nathaniel, and Russell Patton, all of Fulton; two sisters, Mrs. Naomi Scott of Battle Creek, Mich. and Miss Lucille Patton of Fulton.

John Seay
Word has been received of the death of John H. Seay of Houston, Texas. He was the son of the former Rufus Brooks of Fulton and a nephew of the late L. D. Brooks.

A former Hickman county resident, he died Tuesday, January 20 in a Seabrook, Texas hospital.

Services were held Friday, January 23 at Salem Methodist Church with Rev. Richard Denton officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Seay; his father, Arthur Seay of Clinton; two sons, William Seay of Seabrook and John Seay, Jr. of Macon; two daughters, Margaret and Molly Seay both of Seabrook, and a brother James Seay of Anaheim, California.

BILL KILL
Kentucky, under a 1966 law, has received its largest payment so far, $10,260, for fish-kill damages. It came from Kraft Foods for a fish-kill last June in Stevens Creek below the company's Owenton plant. Kraft did not admit its liability for pollution of the stream, but said it was paying the amount demanded by the state to avoid the time and expense of litigation.

Fred Thompson

Fred Thompson, 82, died at 2:00 p.m. Monday, January 26, at the Mayfield Hospital. Mr. Thompson was a retired oil company employee of Mayfield and formerly of Fulton.

He was the son of the late William and Martha Thompson, well known Fulton residents. Services were held at the Byrn Funeral Home in Mayfield with Rev. J. L. Leggett officiating. Interment was in the Maplewood Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Bessie Thompson; a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Pawlus, Cleveland; four sisters, Mrs. William F. Clark and Mrs. Bev Rout of Fulton; Mrs. Edith Pirtle, Jerseyville, Illinois and Mrs. Gerry McMahan, Los Angeles.

Larry Bugg

Funeral services were held Tuesday, January 27, at the Hopkins and Brown Funeral Home in Clinton for Larry Tucker Bugg of Route 3, Clinton.

Mr. Bugg was fatally injured in a motorcycle-car crash on Highway 51 near the city limits of Wickliffe, Sunday afternoon, January 25.

Mr. Bugg, 31, was a city mail carrier at Clinton and lived in the Springhill Community. He was unmarried.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bugg of Clinton, and two sisters, Mrs. Martha Connor of Clinton and Mrs. Mary Ann Carter of Arlington.

Silas Bruce

Silas E. Bruce, 82, died suddenly at 4:00 a.m. Wednesday, January 21 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Choice of Paducah.

Born in Weakly County, Tennessee, he was the son of the late Alonzo and Alpha Rhett Brooks Bruce. His wife preceded him in death in 1943.

Services were held Friday, January 23, at the Jackson Funeral Home Chapel, with Elder Arlie Larimer officiating. Interment was in Greenlea Cemetery.

Survivors include a son, Thomas Bruce, Dukedom, a daughter, Mrs. John Choice, Paducah, a sister, Mrs. C. J. (Gip) McDade of Grand Prairie, Texas; three grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

William Hall

William S. (Bill) Hall, a former Fulton resident and son of Mrs. Mattie Hall of Fulton and the late George C. Hall, died on Sunday, January 25th, in Baton Rouge, La., where he resided.

Mr. Hall, 69, was born in Louisville. He was a retired American Railway Express agent and a World War I veteran. He was a Fulton High School graduate and attended the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

Funeral services were held in Baton Rouge. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elma Charlton Hall of Baton Rouge; two sons, Ron and Don Hall of Memphis; a brother, Joe M. Hall and a sister, Mrs. E. L. Bradley, of Fulton and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Wooten of Covington, Tenn., and three grandchildren.

Inflation, Fires
Cited For Increase

Inflation and a rise in fires and thefts were cited by representatives of companies doing most of the business in Kentucky as the basis for their request for an increase in homeowners' insurance rates. State Insurance Commissioner took the case under advisement after a public hearing. The companies are seeking an over-all average increase of 10.2 percent for a new or renewed three-year policies and substitution of a one-year maximum to make rates apply sooner.

THE $100,000 PIG-RAISING OPERATION of Robert Lusk at Cayce is centered in these spacious buildings. Building in foreground is a new $50,000 ultra-modern and hygienically-clean pig parlor, completely enclosed and heated; long shed in distance contains pens for growth and feeding up to marketing age.

INSIDE OF LUSK'S MODERN pig-parlor contains around 75 stalls for sows and their new-born pigs, in up-to-date, hygienically-clean facilities. Building is heated, each stall has special heating facilities plus automatic waterer and feeder and flush-out drains for easy cleaning.

THIS NEW-BORN LITTER of 12 pigs in Lusk's pig-parlor is as healthy and pretty as any hog-raiser could wish. Yet, after a few days on their mother's TGE-contaminated milk, they will all die from this dread disease which the sow picked up prior to birth. TGE does not kill older animals, but is fatal to the very young.

THESE PENS contain a few of Lusk's hogs that were old enough to escape the TGE infestation. A specially-developed premium-market-value hog, it is a Hampshire-Yorkshire-Landrace cross bred to a Duroc boar. Production of this animal for market is the main purpose of the massive Lusk operations.

the background has dozens of little colored lines to each of the numerals, while a little red needle just keeps clicking away each precious second.

Without my glasses on I can hardly tell whether its night or day; with all that electronic artistry on the face of the clock I just turned over and gave up telling time as a bad job.

Yet I was nice and comfortable listening to the pews when out of nowhere comes a shrill, hurried, revolting sound that just scared the daylight out of me.

I don't know what I turned, but it finally stopped banging. So I settled down to listening to the news again. You wouldn't believe it, but in ten minutes that amateur fire whistle started all over again. I repeated the shenanigans, but not quite so resigned to the intricacies of Stubblefield, Marconi and their wireless monsters.

Whatever I did the first time, I did again, and it turned off. When, ten minutes later, it started giving out this riveting sound again, I convinced myself that Paul was deliberately trying to put me out of mind in a kind of subtle, but sadistic way.

I reached over and tried to cut it off, as I have seen R. Paul do many times, but it simply wouldn't be tuned out. I twisted another little knob but the sound seemed to come on in louder tones.

I switched the station knob, lost the live-wire, got another station and still it kept blasting off. Finally I just turned the radio off, and of course lost the live-wire and all other programs, too.

After complaining bitterly to Paul, and in a pretty bad mood, he showed me how to work the thing. Like heck he did.

The next morning I actually defied that little squawk-box to act up, and it did, but to no avail. Maddox 'n a wet hen I took it into Paul's room, used an expletive or two, and told him to take the thing where he got it.

He did!

Well, to make a short story a little longer,

I want you to know I have the same model radio back on my bedside table. I can't see what time it is, I don't know how to set the alarm, I don't know how many times and at what intervals that little buzzing buzzard will sound off, but I do know one thing, while I'm trying to win the battle of the buzzer of dubious legitimacy, I'm wishing all the time I had asked for my two back teeth for Christmas on a bridge.

A Message From HENRY MADDOX About A New Judicial District

Dear Editor:

Answering some of the statements that have been in the news lately pertaining to the NEW Judgeship.

A few days after the 1964 session I was in a lawyer's office and he was reading an old dusty and yellowed page statute book and I inquired if his cases of today demanded information from the old book. He answered no but said we met last night and decided to start a new circuit court for the First Judicial District. I asked him who the "we" were and he said the First Judicial Bar Association.

The bill was introduced in the 1966 Senate and when the lawyers contacted me about it I told them I would first contact the people of the First Legislative District before taking a stand. First I contacted Judge Tipton concerning his caseload and he told me he was aware of the caseload when he ran for the office and was not taking a part in any in creating a new judgeship. I put a notice in the papers of the four counties asking for my constituents opinions concerning another court. In reply I received 354 letters against and 6 letters for the court and four of the six replies were from lawyers. One of the letters against it was from a county attorney who said "I think it the most absurd thing I ever heard of to create a new circuit court, when, speaking for my own county, the docket is getting smaller every year."

I contacted the head of the courts in Frankfort where all records are kept and I was told Judge Tipton's caseload was not any heavier than the average caseload of other judges in the state. After this information I took a stand against the new court, for after all I was elected to represent all the people and not a certain group. This bill died in committee in the Senate.

In July 1969 the Legislative Research Commission issued a Bulletin No. 71 Circuit Court Caseload. I do not understand how a senator or representative can read this Bulletin No. 71 and then consider starting a new court anywhere in the state on the taxpayers.

Quote from Bulletin No. 71, "When the Court of Appeals find that a judge is falling behind in his caseload, they can then immediately assign another judge or judges to assist in the problem."

Rep. Graves states the extra judge's pay would come from the state. As you know it comes from the General Fund and when you take money from the General Fund it is replaced by taxes only.

The bulletin No. 71 also states that under the present system the fund for the creation of a court must come from the Fiscal Courts of the counties in the circuit, and creating a new court consist of court reporters, secretarial employees, record keeping, bailiff and purchasing of supplies which are common to the operation of all circuits. Another burden on our small counties will cause consolidation of our counties quicker than most of us would expect and then we will have court houses for sale.

The salary of a judge now is $19900.00 and in the fifties when the salary was about $8500.00 we heard nothing of establishing a new court.

I have no ill feeling against the lawyers and I do not blame them for working for a bill in their favor, but as I was representing the people I was forced to take the stand I did.

On the front page of the January 21st edition of the Paducah Sun Democrat were listed two bills of Rep. Graves, one for creating a new circuit court and another to reduce the 5c state sales tax to 4c across the board. I ask can any business man run his business on this same basis.

Ralph, please print the truth in your articles, you are a Representative now. You stated the bill failed in 1966 and 1968. In 1968 the bill did not get in the hopper. Another untrue statement accusing me of paying for an advertisement at least some of them by personal check. You can check with the manager of the papers. I think you should apologize to the people you represent, not to me, for making such untrue statements in the paper.

Your personal attacks are untrue and do not reflect the dignity and calm reasoning required by the office you hold.

CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS PLEASE READ THIS

Last week an ad appeared in this newspaper as paid for by "Citizens Group of Taxpayers" opposing the creation of a separate Judicial District for Graves County. This ad was typical of all anonymous calls, ads, letters and other items that are loaded with false and misleading information that require anonymity. The truth is that the case load of Judge W. C. Tipton is one of the heaviest in the State. The Kentucky Legislative Research Commission most assuredly recommended that if any Judicial Districts receive relief, the Counties of Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton and Graves be included in that group. All candidates, running for re-election in the First Judicial District, including Mr. Henry Maddox, but excluding Mr. Lloyd Clapp, endorsed the creation of a separate Judicial District for Graves County. At every meeting of the First Judicial District Bar Association the recommendation for another Judicial District has been unanimously approved. No one who has the best interests of the people in Ballard, Carlisle, Graves, Hickman and Fulton Counties can honestly oppose the creation of a new district for Graves County.

There is no Constitutional prohibition of the creation of additional Courts of "specified terms" as opposed to Courts of "continuous session," if there is a need for such a district. There have been many Courts such as this created in the State of Kentucky and many more will be, whether we receive any relief or not. The only additions to our present system will be an additional Judge for Graves County and a Commonwealth Attorney for the river counties of Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman and Fulton.

Please remember that lawyers do not go into Courts unless they represent people. It is not the lawyers who need relief but the people who demand, and rightfully so, that their cases be concluded in a prompt and efficient manner. The vast majority of cases are now tried before the Judge instead of a jury and these cases are tried almost every day of every week including Saturdays. The move to create another district is not just to relieve the Judge, but it is to relieve the Citizens and litigants who are entitled to prompt and speedy trials. At present the highest courts give those charged with crimes prompt and speedy trials and we think our good citizens and litigants should also be entitled to them.

Ask anyone who is around the Circuit Courts about this situation. You might also ask who is it that hides behind the name of "Citizens Group of Taxpayers."

President First Judicial District Bar Association

Out-Of-State Enrollment Low In Kentucky

A report by the State Council on Public Higher Education says that whereas over-all state college enrollments showed a 2.2 percent rise this year, out-of-state enrollments dropped 2.3 percent.

The drop was attributed to a 1968 tuition increase for non-Kentuckians to check unbridled enrollment, to more selective admission requirements, increased costs and difficulty in arranging student loans.

Ordering a cut in out-of-state enrollments to 20 percent of the total by next fall and 15 percent by 1973, the council has voted another tuition increase for non-Kentuckians effective next fall.

This increase amounts to a $60 a year at the regional schools and $50 at the University of Kentucky. Non-Kentuckians now pay $740 a year at the regional institutions and $980 at UK.

State Ranks Tenth In Highway Work

State Highway Commissioner Eugene Goss announced the Federal Highway Administration places Kentucky among the top ten states in several categories of highway work for 1969. The ranking shows Kentucky.

Fifth, with 1,208, in the number of miles of state highways constructed; ninth, with $147,000, in disbursements for state-administered highways; ninth in obligation of interstate funds, and tenth for fund obligations for combined interstate, federal and primary, secondary, urban and rural projects -- for fiscal 1970.

Income Tax Reform Discussed By Gore

"One of my three greatest accomplishments as a US Senator," this was the appraisal upon the $150 increase in personal exemptions to the income tax adopted by Congress during its recent session by Sen. Albert Gore as he spoke to Thursday's meeting of the Martin Rotary Club. He listed the other two as the Interstate Highway system and Medicare.

Sen. Gore led the successful fight in Congress to raise the personal exemption level from its long-standing $600 base. The amendment, as originally proposed by the Senator, called for an increase in the personal exemption to $800, a figure adopted overwhelmingly by the Senate. It was reduced to a $550 increase in a joint Senate-House conference and was later signed into law by Pres. Richard Nixon.

Stating that he has over the years been one of the most persistent voices in Congress for reform of the tax laws, the Senator said he based his drive in this year's session upon two facets: tax reform and tax relief. "Of these two, the bigger fight was for tax relief," he said.

Sen. Gore said that many individuals and groups have avoided paying their fair share of taxes. He cited as one instance a man who made $30 million in four years but had failed to pay a single dollar in income tax. Another example given was that of one of the nation's largest oil companies which also had not paid any income tax during the past four years. "We were able to bring in more than $6 billion, 600 million this year just by tightening the present tax laws, and we did this without any raise in taxes," he said.

He said that to give tax relief, "we took this $6 billion, 600 million and added to it the $3-1/2 billion cut from the budget" to make up the sum lost by granting tax exemptions to the low and middle class brackets. "The difference between our bill and that proposed by the administration was that we wanted to help both the low and middle income groups while the administration wanted the relief to go mainly to the very lowest and the very highest brackets," Sen. Gore said.

The net result of the new exemptions to a typical family of four, the Senator said, will be that under the new bill this family will have its first $4000 exempt as compared with the $2400 at present.

Ford Calls For Non-Partisan Study Aimed At Government Reorganization

Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford has called for a nonpartisan legislative study of state government, so it can be reorganized in 1972.

Ford said he will ask the legislature to adopt a joint resolution setting up a two-year study of the executive branch by the Legislative Research Commission. A summary and recommendations would be complete in December 1971, and would be available to the next governor for his use. A detailed report of the study would go to the 1972 General Assembly.

The reorganization would not affect the present administration, Ford pointed out. "It is a procedure to bring order and economy into a government whose structure has developed piecemeal and grown like Topsy the last three decades."

The last major reorganization was in the 1930's.

Ford said untended growth has made government more fragmented, less responsive to the people and less able to meet public problems. Modernization and streamlining are needed, he said.

"Like functions should be consolidated; administrative costs should be cut; duplicate efforts should be eliminated."

"Government has overflowed until it is no longer the real servant of the people."

Ford said the next governor of Kentucky, whoever he may be, should offer the legislature a reorganization plan at its first session. "A governor's full term is needed to put a worthwhile reorganization into effect," Ford said.

He noted that eight years ago, in 1962, the governor recommended and the legislature conferred upon the chief executive authority to reorganize state economy and efficiency measures in the interests of the people. We have waited two years. We should wait no longer."

Ford said that during the past two years the governors of 20 other states made recommendations to their legislatures for reorganization. "Kentucky should branch to submit to it a comprehensive plan of reorganization which would achieve these ends," Ford said.

"Gov. Nunn promised in 1967 to modernize state government and to implement massive economy, efficiency and improved administration, and to submit such plans to the General Assembly for approval."

"The legislature has waited eight years for the executive branch to submit to it a comprehensive plan of reorganization which would achieve these ends," Ford said.

Racial Complaint Filed

HICKMAN, Ky. — The Kentucky Commission on Human Rights will investigate a complaint of racial discrimination at Fulton County High School filed Friday by a group of Negro parents and students.

A spokesman for the group said the Negroes were unhappy over alleged different administrative standards of discipline applied to black and white students.

The Negroes also complained that there are no Negro teachers on the faculty, pointing out that 22 per cent of the school's students are black.

School principal Bobby Childers and county Superintendent Harold Garrison categorically denied the charges.

The administrators said that, for the first time, a student council was made up of five whites and two Negroes who received the most votes. They added that a Negro has been named assistant basketball coach at the high school, and that they will try to obtain two qualified Negro teachers next year, as they tried to do without success this year.

Each Tooth Has Own Duty

Some of the world's greatest specialists live in the human mouth. They're your teeth, and they are so highly specialized that each one has its own duties in preparing food for digestion. The incisors and canine teeth, at the front of the jaw, cut and tear food into small pieces. The molars, at the rear, grind the food. You can bet that such specialists deserve extra care against their prime enemy, tooth decay. If you lose your permanent teeth, you can't grow a new set (specialists. Brush your teeth after eating, and brush or rinse after a snack.

Hubbard Says Illegitimate Child Bill Gains Support

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 10 — Sen. Carroll Hubbard of Mayfield Saturday said his bill that would deny state aid to a woman for her third or any subsequent illegitimate child is picking up considerable support.

One endorsement, he said, came by telegram from the Mayfield Chamber of Commerce.

Under the bill, state aid would be legal for the first two illegitimate children.

The measure also provides for termination of parental rights for mothers in such instances as covered by the law.

The children would become wards of the state to be cared for as provided by law, according to the bill.

A similar bill got nowhere in the House in 1968. It provoked a volley of objections to "treating one illegitimate child differently from others."

Other bills by area legislators during the closing hours of the first week of the General Assembly included:

—Sen. Tom Garrett of Paducah, a bill to give County Court clerks, Circuit Court clerks, sheriffs and county attorneys raises from $9,600 to $14,000.

—Sen. Carl Hadden, Elkton, a bill to deny a license to any hospital of 100 beds or more unless a doctor, intern or resident physician is on duty at all times.

—Hubbard, a bill to reduce from 30 to 20 the number of years a member of the state police must have as a service credit before declaring his normal retirement date.

—Sen. Bill Sullivan, Henderson, a bill to take Crittenden County from the Fourth Judicial District and place it in the Fifth along with Webster and Union, and to take Henderson from the Fifth District and make it a separate Circuit Court district. The action would leave Hopkins and Caldwell in the Fourth District.

South Fulton Divides With Gleason Bulldogs

South Fulton captured its first home court boys' win of the season Friday evening, topping Gleason 75-56 behind hot second-half shooting while the Lady Devils found themselves victims of an outstanding Gleason team, as they fell 76-56.

In the opener, it was Gleason 14-13 at the period, 38-32 in favor of the Lady Bulldogs at the half, and then the game was sealed in the third canto as Gleason pulled out to a 63-49 edge.

South Fulton was paced by hustler Julie Bard, Miss Bard, ranked as one of the finest outside shooters in the area, topped her squad with 29 points. Judy Powell joined her in double figures with 17.

However, the one-two South Fulton punch was not enough to offset the strong shooting Gleason squad that was paced by Sherry Suddath at 31. Bev Dunn tossed in 23 and Pat Robinson had 19.

In the nightcap, Coach Terry Beedles said his squad "acted like we wanted to play ball for a change. We played a pretty fair second half as our scoring came through for us."

The Devil scoring machine did get cranked up the final two cantos after the Devils were down 26-25 at halftime.

It was 45-35 South Fulton at the end of three with a big fourth period making the margin 19 points at the end of the game.

Ralph Jackson had an exceptional game for South Fulton, scoring 24 points and working the boards well. Gary Jetton scored 21 from his center slot, blocked five shots and pulled in 13 rebounds. Dale Yates scored 19 as the young sophomore continued to show signs of future stardom.

SHARING FINANCIAL BURDEN
LONDON — Tyndale Hall, one of the Church of England's theological colleges, has been turned into a limited liability company so that evangelical churches and parishes can assume part of the financial burden of training new ministers. The college accepts the doctrinal basis of the Bible Churchmen's Missionary Society. Most theological colleges in England are self-perpetuating private institutions administered by councils and not responsible to any wider body of supporters.

Bombers 66 Pilots 46

HICKMAN, Ky.—Center John Fulford and forward Ronnie Yates teamed for 39 points to lead the second-ranked Ballard Memorial Bombers over the host Fulton County Pilots, 66-46, Friday night.

The Bombers played without the services of guard Randy Allen and forward Tommy Draper who have been temporarily suspended from the team.

Ballard fell behind in the early going and trailed by four points at the end of the first quarter. The Bombers came back in the second period and moved ahead by one, 28-27, at the intermission break.

Fulton County went dead from the field in the third frame and Yates and Fulford took complete control of the boards to guide Ballard to a slim 43-36 advantage after three periods of play. Gaining a "hot hand" from the floor, the Bombers broke loose with 23 points in the final quarter to coast to the victory.

Fulford, a 6-3 senior, was high for the Bombers with 20 points. Yates, a 6-2 forward, picked up 19 points and grabbed off 19 rebounds. Robert Nalls, the region's leading scorer, tallied 26 points, more than half the Fulton County output.

The Bombers hit on 23 of 46 attempts from the field for an impressive 50 per cent. The Pilots hit only 17 of 63 shots from the floor for a cold 21 per cent. Ballard sank 20 of 30 attempts from the charity stripe and Fulton County collected 12 of 19 gratis tosses.

Ballard has won 16 of 20 starts. Fulton County is 8-7 on the season.

Bethel To Hail New President

A former principal of Obion County Central High School, James E. McKee, will be installed officially Monday as president of Bethel College in McKenzie. The official presentation of Mr. McKee to the faculty and student body will take place at 10 a.m. convocation. Mr. McKee, who will address the assembly, also will be honored at an 8 p.m. reception at the college center the same day.

Mr. McKee assumed the presidency of the school Jan. 1, following expiration of the one-year interim term served by Dr. J.A. Barksdale. Dr. Barksdale was named to the position following the death of longtime Bethel president Dr. Roy N. Baker.

Mr. McKee has served several school systems throughout West Tennessee, including the stint at Obion Central. He is active in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, has served as moderator of the Obion Presbytery and as an elder in the Cumberland Presbyterian churches at Troy and Trimble.

'Baby Teeth'
May Shift

Why are baby's primary teeth like passengers in a crowded bus? Because they shift position to fill an empty space. If a "baby tooth" has to be extracted due to decay, the teeth may shift to fill the space. Thus, there is not enough room for the permanent tooth to erupt in its proper place. Later this may require costly orthodontic correction. So teach little children to prevent decay by brushing the teeth after eating.

Left-Handed Matchmaking

IPSWICH, England
Young men in this east Anglian town will be allowed into one local cinema only if they come with a girl friend.

The rule, made by cinema manager David Lowe, is aimed at stamping out rowdiness. He made his decision after several local lads had started letting off fireworks in the hall.

"My experience is that these young men behave a lot better if they have a girl with them," Lowe said.

What about necking in the back rows?

"There's nothing wrong with that," Lowe said. "The cinema has always been popular with courting couples."

Monkeys' Rights Denied

RALEIGH, N.C. — A federal judge ruled monkeys don't have constitutional rights as he dismissed the suit of six prisoners who sought to enjoin the National Aeronautics and Space Administration from sending any more monkeys into space.

Judge Algernon Butler of U.S.

District Court said the suit was "wholly without merit and entirely frivolous."

The convicts said they could understand how a monkey feels being confined to a spacecraft. They also said that Bonny, the NASA monkey which became sick on a space trip and later died, had been subjected to "cruel and unusual punishment."

Judge Butler said the suit was "an attempt at abuse of process."

We are not aware of any court, state or federal, that has included monkeys in the category of homo sapiens whose rights are guaranteed by the Constitution and Bill of Rights."

Two Post Offices Are Burglarized; Damage Extensive

COLUMBUS, Ky., —The U.S. Post Office here was robbed Saturday morning by two safe crackers who, authorities believe, committed a similar burglary in nearby Arlington the previous night.

State police detective Joe Hill said an explosive that was set off failed to open the post office safe. Only $66 worth of stamped envelopes were taken, the detective said.

Hickman deputy sheriff Leroy Edwards, who lives in a trailer near the post office, was awakened by the explosion about 4 a.m. Edwards fired several shots at one of the two men as he ran from the post office to a car, the detective said.

Hill said the post office was entered through a rear door. The detective speculated there was a link between the break-in and the one early Friday morning at Arlington, Arlington is about eight miles from Columbus in Carlisle County.

The Arlington Post Office was extensively damaged when its safe was blown open by a large explosive charge, but only a small amount of cash and stamps was reported taken.

Damage to the building was placed at between $2,500 and $3,000 and the blast reportedly rattled windows in the town. Hill said the burglars apparently had decided they had used too much explosive on the Arlington safe and so they used too little on the one in Columbus. The explosion, he said, only blew a hole in the safe's door.

Hill and postal inspector D. T. Barks are conducting the investigation.

FIRE WARNING: Smoking in bed and overloaded electrical circuits continue to cause serious fires. Being careful will help avoid many home fires, the Allstate Safety Crusade says. It also urges insurance to value, to make sure you have coverage to replace any losses.

Board Revokes Beer License

Chill And Grill

Remains Padlocked

The permit to sell beer at the Chill and Grill night spot on the Hickman highway and the Old Lake Road was revoked Thursday afternoon by the unanimous vote of the Ohio County Beer Board, following hearings conducted in the circuit courtroom of the courthouse.

The club previously had been temporarily padlocked by order of Circuit Court Judge Phil Harris.

Voting to revoke the license of the club were Beer Board members J. R. Hatchett, Billy Blake, Robert Barnes and Ed Halley. Jones Carver, also a member, was sick and did not attend.

In calling for a motion, board chairman Hatchett summed up testimony from six witnesses by saying that they (the witnesses) had convinced him that the night spot had stayed open past the 12 o'clock closing hour, that whiskey had been sold and that gambling had taken place.

"All of these offenses violate state law and I believe we have heard enough to revoke the beer license of the Chill and Grill," Mr. Hatchett said.

Testifying at the brief hearing were Willard King, Frank Ray, Damon Dial, State Highway Patrol Sergeant Tom Kilpatrick, Trooper W. C. Tate and Robert Crackle Sr.

In addition, there were a number of other residents of the area present for the hearing.

According to Mr. Hatchett, Walter B. Craddock Jr., owner of the Chill and Grill, may appeal the Beer Board's decision to the circuit court if he wishes. However, it was Circuit Judge Harris who granted the temporary injunction to padlock the club on Friday, Dec. 9.

TO DOUBLE SCHOLARSHIPS—The Development Committee of the University of Tennessee at Martin met on the campus and set an immediate goal of $75,000 in an effort to double scholarships and awards for deserving students to further their education. Among those attending were: From left, Hardy Graham of Union City; Dr. Archie R. Dykes, UTM chancellor; Dr. Edward J. Bolling of Knoxville, U-T president-elect; Dave Shatz and F.G. Cavin, Jr., committee chairman, both of Union City.

Scholarship Hike Sought

A concentrated effort directed toward increasing scholarships and awards to enable deserving students to attend the University of Tennessee at Martin has been adopted by the UTM Development Committee, meeting on the UTM campus.

In an effort to double scholarship aid offered for students who expect to enroll or are already attending U-T at Martin, the committee set the immediate goal of $75,000 with the expectation that it would be reached by May 2. F.G. Cavin Jr., chairman of the UTM Development Committee, presented the proposal as an executive committee recommendation.

Mr. Cavin indicated that other areas of need at U-T Martin that can be accomplished through a concerted approach are immediate gifts and continuing and deferred gifts. Reinforcing the urgency for financial aid to students, Dr. Jack Mays, UTM's vice chancellor for development, said there is a great need for larger scholarships as well as for additional scholarships.

Stressing the need for providing a wide variety of educational opportunities for young people of the area, Dr. Archie R. Dykes, chancellor of U-T Martin, said the more than $300,000,000 expansion in industry in Northwest Tennessee since 1961 and the technological advances in the manufacturing processes point up the continuing need for better trained individuals. Dr. Dykes said the development of Northwest Tennessee and development at the University of Tennessee at Martin go hand in hand. The recently approved degree program in engineering technology and the associate of arts program in nursing preparatory to registered nurse certification are two examples of UTM's efforts to help meet the needs of the area.

Presently a survey of needs at U-T Martin, Dr. Norman Campbell, vice chancellor of academic affairs, said additional support above that furnished by taxes and student fees is needed from the private sector. Financial and moral support is needed for faculty, students and facilities.

Dr. Edward J. Bolling, president-elect and vice president for development and administration of U-T, spoke briefly on U-T in the 1970's and the changing patterns of education that would characterize this decade. He said that the university must be more concerned with the individual and with the problems of society. "We have to think more in terms of education for people of all backgrounds; we must think more of educating people than of just granting degrees," he said.

Members of the UTM Development Committee are F.G. Cavin Jr. (chairman), Hardy Graham and Dave Shatz of Union City; Henry O. Coats of Collierville; Jim Hadley of Humboldt; Burrell Jernigan of Dyersburg; Lyle Putnam of Trenton; Congressman Ed Jones of Yorkville; Gil Parker of Tiptonville; John Murphy of Jackson; Rich Carothers of Paris; George Thomas of Dresden; Mayor Cliff Weldon, David Murphy and Murray Fessell of Martin.

Reports From Washington

Unless our recent population trends are reversed, this country could be in for some real problems in the not too distant future. After World War II, large numbers of our people began to migrate toward the cities. The rate of this migration has been tremendous, and the problems which have resulted are alarming.

Since the Second World War, more than twenty million persons have left rural America for the cities. In 1940, our farm population was over thirty-and-a-half million, but at last count (1968) barely ten million remained on the farm. This decrease in the number of people living on farms has occurred in spite of a growth in our total population of fifty-five million persons in the same period of time.

Our population has shifted so drastically that seventy-two percent of our people now live on less than two percent of our land. Our cities are literally bursting at the seams, while the remaining twenty-eight per cent of our people occupy the remaining ninety-eight per cent of our land.

Many of our nation's major problems can be traced to this shift in population patterns. For example, Former Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman feels that poverty and welfare, violence, unemployment, crime in the streets, housing and health problems "could be linked to a migration from rural America that resulted in too many people on too little space."

Some psychologists tell us that when a human being becomes too crowded he is likely to experience psychological turmoil. It is surprising then that turbulence results when more than two-thirds of our people are living in our urban centers?

On the other hand, small town merchants all across the country are finding fewer and fewer people to buy their wares. Small town industries are having difficulty finding people to man their machines in many areas. The result of this, of course, is to encourage further migration to the cities. The urban centers are overcrowded because most industries are located there, and that is where the industrial jobs are.

Most government installations are also located in or near the cities, and that is where the government jobs are. And, of course, people go where the jobs are.

What we must do is to reverse the trend. We must induce people to move out of the cities and into the rural areas. We must seek to arrive at a population balance. We must do this not only to prevent the cities from exploding, but to prevent the small towns from drying up.

How can we reverse the trend? We can encourage rural industrialization, perhaps with tax incentives for industries which move out of the cities. We can promote tourism; we can encourage agriculture; we can improve education and recreation in rural areas; and we can provide for the renewal of rural facilities such as central water and waste disposal systems.

The America we know today is far different from the America we knew thirty years ago. Unless we take steps to reverse our migratory trends, in another thirty years our country will have passed beyond recognition.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

HELP FOR THE HOPELESS

Newspapers across the Nation some years ago headlined a serious riot in the maximum security unit at Rusk State Hospital in Texas. Hopeless and embittered, a group of "criminally insane" patients gained control of a ward and injured several hospital workers.

Finally, the riot was ended. But for years after, the patients were simply "warehoused." Their only treatment was time therapy," says Dr. Arch M. Connolly, the hospital's superintendent. "They spent all their time sitting on benches."

These were men without hope: 350 male sociopaths, schizophrenics, and chronic mental patients committed for acts of violence such as murder and rape.

But help was found for these hopeless; and today Rusk State Hospital is making happier news. Dr. Connolly says that a tremendous change has occurred in the unit because of a new program, begun in 1966, of treatment and rehabilitation supported by a mental hospital improvement grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

Stories in Texas papers have noted that patients in the same maximum security unit now repair toys for underprivileged children, sponsor barbecues, enjoy musical groups, enjoy open houses with visitors, and produce handicrafts to sell.

With the grant, the hospital was able to hire more personnel, buy needed equipment and supplies, and start an entire new program of treatment and rehabilitation.

Most patients responded to the change with an immediate reaching out for help, says Dr. Connolly; and all but a few of the most withdrawn patients are helped by the program.

The endless bench-sitting in despair has given way to individualized psychiatric treatment and action: educational classes, sports, games, and interesting and useful shop and other work opportunities.

Criminal offenders from all over the State who are committed to mental hospital care are sent to the Rusk Hospital maximum security unit at the rate of about 100 per year. Under the new treatment and rehabilitation program, the rate of discharge has been stepped up to some 100 per year.

"These are men who can be safely discharged as a result of the better and more active therapy and rehabilitation activities we have been able to institute," Dr. Connolly says. "We are preparing those who are able to respond to such a program for the day when they will be capable of leading normal lives outside."

BOONE, N.C.

— That prized possession of most beauty conscious women, the electric hair dryer, was pressed into extra duty by coeds suffering through the bitter cold snap in the South.

When room heaters in a dormitory proved unable to match the biting cold some coeds at Appalachian State University met the problem by donning warm clothing, getting into bed and using their hair dryers to pump warm air under the covers.

EXERCISE AND WEIGHT CONTROL

Today I'd like to clear up two misunderstandings about exercise and weight control. Some people feel a great deal of time and effort is necessary to "use up enough calories" to take off pounds or keep your weight from increasing.

The other misbelief is that exercise will increase your appetite enough to increase, not decrease, your weight.

Neither of these assumptions is true.

For example, it's been estimated that a woman would need to eat only 96 calories a day more than she needs for energy to gain 50 pounds from the time of her third child five years later. But if she had added only 25 minutes of brisk walking to her daily activities, she would not have gained weight.

Adult Man
An average adult man will burn up from 2,400 to 4,500 calories per day depending upon how much he exercises. When I was with the army we knew that soldiers in the field could use up 6,000 calories a day. Laborers and athletes are in this class, too. So it all depends on how active you are whether you will gain weight because of what you eat. Or, to put it another way, you can enjoy more food if you will just get up and get active instead of sitting around.

You can lose ten pounds in the next year if you will just add to your present activity a one mile walk each day, providing, of course, you keep your food intake and other physical activity the same.

As for exercise increasing your appetite a lean person in good condition may eat more after activity but the exercise probably will burn up the extra calories he consumes. But the obese person, the really fat person, will probably not increase his appetite unless he really exercises to excess. Such people can definitely lose weight by increasing exercise. A half hour of jogging uses up 450 calories. Here are some typical calorie expenditures for a 150 pound person in various activities:

ACTIVITY	CALORIES PER HOUR
Driving an auto	120
Domestic work	180
Gardening	220
Bicycling (5 1/2 mph)	210
Walking (2 1/2 mph)	210

Training Center
For Retarded
Being Proposed

The establishment of a vocational training center for retarded and handicapped children and adults is the goal of many Obion Countians and on hand to outline the program for members of the City Council Tuesday night was James Neely.

Mr. Neely, president of the Obion County Association for Retarded Children, told councilmen that his group hopes to set up a center similar to the one which has been established in Dyersburg.

According to Mr. Neely, such a center can be established in Union City with the state providing 70 per cent of the funds with the remaining 30 per cent to be provided locally.

Mr. Neely asked the city to consider providing some of the necessary local funds. The request was taken under advisement.

According to Mr. Neely $10,000 in local funds was required during the first year of operation of the Dyersburg center and about $5,000 a year has been required since that time. He said the facility is staffed by four state instructors who have set up programs of training in keeping with the mental and physical handicaps with which they are working.

Mr. Neely said the group is considering a building at Everett-Stewart Airport for the local center.

The S. O. Dobsons To Celebrate Anniversary

WINGO, Ky., Jan. 24 — Mr. and Mrs. Solomon O. Dobson of Wingo Rt. 2, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 1.

Mrs. Dobson is the daughter of the late Joe B. and Mrs. Olga Taylor of South Graves County. Mr. Dobson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Dobson, also of South Graves County.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobson were married by Elder A. J. Luther, a Primitive Baptist minister, at his home on West Broadway in Mayfield. Their attendants were Reginald Williams, Mrs. Bernice Petty Durham, the late Walter O. Boyette, the late Mrs. Ette Dobson Vaughan, Mrs. Huey Brewington and the late Mr. Brewington.

The couple has two sons, Harold B. Dobson of Birmingham, Ala., and Marvin D. Dobson of Nashville, Tenn.; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Open house will be held at their home from 2 p.m. till 5 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

FUN WITH FIGURES

George Parker Bidder, a 19th-century Englishman, was a human computer. Typical of the problems he could solve in his head is this one: If a pendulum swings 93 inches in one second, how many inches will it travel in 7 years 14 days 2 hours 1 minute and 56 seconds if each year consists of 365 days 5 hours 48 minutes and 55 seconds? Bidder had the answer: 2,165,625,744 3/4 inches—in less than a minute!

A tuning fork that executes 261 vibrations a second produces a middle-C note. But so does a buzz saw if run at a speed where 261 teeth cut into the wood every second.

More than 6,000 business changes daily are recorded in each edition of Dun & Bradstreet's financial reference book, which comes out every 60 days with 200,000 new items of information.

Between the time Julius Caesar introduced leap year in 45 B.C. to correct the calendar and the late 16th century, the calendar gained about 10 days. To rectify the error, Pope Gregory XIII decreed in 1582 that the day following October 4 should be designated October 15—instant of October 5.

White House Theater

WASHINGTON — President and Mrs. Nixon will launch a series of theatrical "evenings at the White House" on Jan. 29 with comedian Red Skelton performing in the East Room. "The President has expressed a long time interest in Mr. Skelton and his talent as a comedian and performer," Mrs. Nixon's press secretary, Constance Stuart, said Monday in announcing the show and the choice of Skelton as the inaugural performer. About 300 guests will be invited.

No Fueling

MIAMI — The 64-foot motor yacht Lady E of New York appealed to the Coast Guard for help from Buoy 2 near the entrance to Biscayne Bay.

"I have 500 gallons of fuel, but I don't know how to get it transferred to my forward tank. It's out of gas," said Davk Roaman of New York.

Coast Guard crewmen apparently didn't know how either. They towed him in.

Carter Introduces Measure To Change Law On Sheriffs

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 24—The move in the House by Rep. David Carter of Paducah to set the stage for a constitutional change allowing sheriffs to succeed themselves has been picked up in the Senate.

Sen. Tom Harris of Worthville introduced a bill Friday that would allow Kentuckians to vote on the issue, Rep. Carter, of the Fourth District of McCracken, introduced his bill, HB 128 on Jan. 16.

Carter was joined by nine representatives — including Guy Lovins of Calloway and Trigg and Joe Head of Webster and McLean.

A bill of this nature would have to clear the legislature as one of the two constitutional amendments allowable on the ballot next fall.

Other bills introduced Friday included: SB 140—Making it unlawful for anyone except police or armed forces personnel to carry firearms on any college campus. J. C. Carter, R-Scottsville.

SB 137—Allowing a juvenile court to set bail for children in detention. Robert Flynn, R-Lexington.

HB 225—Submitting the Sunday closing issue to a popular referendum at this year's general election, asking the voters whether the entire present law should be repealed. Rep. George Siemens, D-Louisville.

HB 215—Allowing school boards to enter into professional negotiation with teaching organizations over such subjects as salaries, curriculum, working conditions and employee benefits; if an impasse develops and a mediator cannot help, a three-man advisory panel could study the issue, and make recommendations, but they would not be binding. Lloyd McKinney, R-McKee, and 15 others.

HB 221—Providing that a will shall be revoked by the divorce of the person who made it out. Rep. John Swinford, D-Cynthiana.

HB 219—Allowing for up to $5,000 received from the federal Civil Service retirement system to be deducted from state income tax payments. Rep. Joseph Prather, D-Vine Grove, and 25 co-signers.

HB 224—Putting public school teachers, who are now covered by the teacher's retirement system, under coverage of the federal Social Security Act. Rep. James E. Murphy, D-Newport.

HB 218—Allowing private interests rates to exceed 7 per cent as long as all parties agree to the higher rates in writing. Rep. Edward G. Brown, D-Bowling Green, and three others.

Murray Gas Rates Upped 4 Per Cent

MURRAY, Ky. — A 4 per cent increase has been approved for natural gas rates here.

The Murray City Council voted this week to authorize the higher charge by the municipal system.

Officials said it would offset an increase in wholesale rates from the supplier, Texas Gas.

COUNCIL - MANAGER GOVERNMENT

TO THE CITIZENS OF SOUTH FULTON

This annual report is being initiated in order that you may be better informed regarding the activities of your city government. Service is the only product your City has to sell. One of the major goals of your City Commission is to provide you quality service within the framework of existing revenues. Another major goal of your commission is community development. Through comprehensive planning and zoning, building code enforcement, construction and public water and sewer facilities your City provides basic ingredients for economic and industrial growth and development. Above all, your City Commission represents you and wants to be responsive to the citizens of South Fulton.

Your City

Yes, it is YOUR city. It belongs to you. Because you live here and you pay for the services. Here is a report to you.

Public Works

Three of the most vital, but least glamorous, areas in city government are the agencies with the responsibility for the city's upkeep and proper maintenance.

Roland Ray and his assistant Paul Harris make plans for the day's work.

Building Inspector J. W. Richardson at work

STREETS

The street department maintains and repairs all public roads within the city, as well as caring for all city-owned rights-of-way.

SANITATION

The sanitation department increased its service from one to two residential pick-ups of garbage per week in December, in order to eliminate burning and the resulting fire hazard and to minimize spoilage of refuse during the summer months.

An improved Harris Fork Creek

The new garbage truck on its rounds for twice a week collections.

HEALTH

With the advice and help of L. M. McCuan the city maintains a constant program of eliminating health nuisances. Last year 45 abandoned vehicles were removed from the city. Under the same program, old refrigerators were either collected or, at least, had doors removed. Programs for mosquito and rodent control are conducted annually.

Housing Conditions

The City has undertaken a program of housing code enforcement. Identifying sub-standard conditions through systematic inspection is the job of the city.

The Creek

Harris Fork Creek was dredged this year by city employees at a nominal cost to the tax payer. Drainage is much better as a result and the chance of flooding reduced.

The old Rosenwald School has been renovated and converted into 10,000 square feet of useable space at a cost of less than $9,000.00.

Fire Department

Kenneth Hutchens, Fire Chief

MR. HUTCHENS

Up to present time, the South Fulton Fire Department has answered twenty-nine alarms. This being a decrease of nineteen over the same period as last year. Nine of these calls were made in the county. There have been no major losses in the city up to this date. Grass fires and autos are about one-half of the alarms answered. The fire department conducted twenty-five building inspections during the past year. The department is composed of three full time men and twenty-one volunteers.

Mrs. Virgil Covington holds the distinction of being the only lady volunteer "fireman" in West Tennessee. Mrs. Covington is the telephone and radio operator during fires. The volunteers are given four hours training per month. The position of Captain of volunteers is held by Lewis Bizzle, with Harold Gardiner and Jimmie Pruitt holding Lieutenant positions. The flushing of fire hydrants is done by the volunteers during drill periods. The fire departments holds a grass burning program each year.

Since the beginning of this program, grass fires have been cut to a bare minimum. South Fulton grades in seventh class in the State Rating Bureau, which is the best you can maintain with the Volunteer Fire Department. The equipment is composed of two pumpers, one being a 1957 Ford; this being the first line truck and a 1952 Mack, this being the reserve and rural truck.

The Volunteer Fire Department and West Tennessee's only lady "fireman."

Police Department

Cleo McClanahan, Police Chief

The South Fulton Police Department, in its efforts to upgrade local law enforcements techniques, has upgraded one of the patrolmen to the rank of Sergeant. The department is currently enrolled in one night class per week at Martin U. T. M. One of the patrolmen spent several hours in the FBI finger print school recently. The department goes to every training school in this area that is possible. The department has four full time officers and two part time men.

Three burglaries occurred during the past year. Two have been solved and one is still under investigation. The arrests for minor infractions of the law were 277, for public drunk, disorderly conduct, etc.; fourteen arrests for petty larceny and shoplifting; five reports for stolen cars with three recoveries.

HOW IT WORKS

Public Finance

Where it came from in fiscal year 1968-1969

Where it went in fiscal year 1968-1969

City Court

Marie Wright,
City Judge

The court's docket includes all traffic violations occurring within the city, as well as other minor offenses. Crimes of a more serious nature are handled by the General Sessions Court.

Judge Wright presides over a session of City Court.

Charles Fields
City Attorney

Legal Department

Normal duties of the attorney include preparation of all ordinances, resolutions and contracts, defense of the city in all litigation, to prosecute in city court, when necessary, and to advise the city commission in legal matters.

Recorders Office

Elizabeth Liliker, City Recorder-Treasurer

The City Recorder, with a staff of three persons, maintains ten separate bank accounts as part of the job of keeping the city's financial records, in addition to collecting taxes and fees, issuing permits and preparing the payroll for city employees.

All money received by the city is channeled through the recorder's office and earmarked for the appropriate department. Likewise, all bills are paid by the office.

The recorder is charged with the responsibility of keeping minutes for all meetings of the city commission and maintaining the official code, including the charter and the ordinances.

The office mails property tax notices and collects the money, issues privilege licenses, dog licenses, permits for building and motor vehicle license, and accepts zoning applications and fees.

The city recorder's office also maintains records on all city employees and administers the city insurance programs.

Utilities

Bill Walker Water and Sewer Supt.

During the past year approximately $540,000 was spent on water and sewer construction. A 500,000 gallon elevated storage tank was constructed, along with new lines to eliminate dead end lines and give the system adequate circulation to prevent build-up of pollutants in the system.

A rural water distribution system was constructed that includes 37 miles of water line outside the city limits and providing a constant supply of potable water to 225 families in the South Fulton planning region.

In order to provide sanitary sewer to all residents in South Fulton and to provide a larger sewer for industrial development, 1.8 miles of 10-inch sanitary sewer was installed.

MR. WALKER

Sewage Treatment Plant

The plant treats approximately 400,000 gallons of sewage each day. Water and sewage treatment operators receive two weeks training each year, either locally or at the state level, and are required to maintain state certification.

Water Treatment Plant

The plant has a capacity of treating up to 2.88 million gallons of water per day. The city's average daily usage is 500,000 gallons.

Maintenance Crews

The water and sewer crews are responsible for approximately 75 miles of water distribution lines and 40 miles of gravity and forced sewer lines. Water crews are often called out at nights and on week-ends for emergency repairs.

With pride in past achievements, and with determination
for the future...

The South Fulton Industrial Development Committee is actively involved in promoting the area and specific industrial sites for industrial development.

The committee has undertaken a mass mailing program to insure that every major industrialist in the country has all the facts about South Fulton to consider before locating a new plant or a plant expansion.

The Committee is determined to be a positive and active force for industrial development and to explore all possibilities that will contribute to the industrial development of South Fulton.

Gas Department

Jack Maddox, Gas Supervisor

The city provides natural gas to approximately 850 families in South Fulton. Gas service is available to all residents of South Fulton at a very economical rate.

Recreation

Park on Central Avenue - This property is being planted and landscaped and will be South Fulton's first public park. Playground equipment, picnic tables and parking areas have been added. The park will be completed and ready for use in early 1970.

Recreational Equipment by Rosenwald Gym—This is the first of South Fulton's mini park developments. This program makes limited recreation area and equipment available in all parts of the city.
